CLUB NEWS: Check out the leadoff ad in the Want Ads. Currency Club of Chester County is the Eastern Club to belong to. It has a great newsletter and wonderful meetings. One of the things I enjoy most about the newsletter is the interesting factoids that show up and educate me. For instance, did you know that the average man at the time of our Revolution was only 5’2”. James Madison was 5’2” and his best friend Thomas Jefferson was 6’3”. I guess that’s why we never see illustrations of the standing next to each other. Jefferson is always seated. It’s a little late for Christmas facts, but did you know that in 1600 the British Parliament outlawed Christmas and Mince pie? In 1923 President Coolidge was the first to light the Christmas tree on the White House lawn. Every issue includes relevant facts for the season that make for enjoyable reading.

Editor’s Notes: I am back in Wausau after another lengthy stay visiting children and grandchildren and looking at houses. We plan on moving back to Michigan sometime this year, so it will be easier to attend local shows and the MSNS shows, of course. I just reviewed the FUN show catalogs from the big Orlando gathering. As we start the New Year prices seem mixed. High grade notes lead the way bringing huge prices. Sometimes I can’t fathom the spreads. For example, a 1923 Large Size Legal Tender $10 Poker chip note, Fr 123 in Superb Gem 67 sold for $30,550. The same note next up in the Platinum auction in Very Choice 64 sold for $14,100. Looking at the illustrations there was only the faintest difference in margins and overall appearance. The next note up, also a Fr123 was graded Choice Uncirculated 64 net, with a comment on the back "thinning" whatever that means. Its photographic appearance was similar to the two previous notes but brought only $6,400. If your ego demands that you own a super grade note or the Finest Known, be prepared to pay these sorts of prices. Another example from the Heritage FUN auction is a Fractional 5th issue 25 cent note Fr. 1266 in Superb 68 condition. This is a very common Fractional note. It sold for $1410 including buyer's premium. It was pretty much perfectly centered. A nice 65 graded note for this number can be had for $250 or so. Is the few millimeters difference in centering perfection worth another $1,160 dollars? You be the judge.

I missed this years MSNS show due to surgery for the removal of a melanoma on my temple and the necessity for a number of appointments to make sure all was taken care of. It was and I am doing fine and looking forward to the next round of shows. In this matter I can thank my type 2 diabetes for the fact that I have regular appointments with my family doctor. He noticed a change in my temple mole and ordered me in for immediate action. As we get older it's a good idea to have regular check ups and eat properly with a healthy slice of exercise. In this manner we may enjoy our hobby for many more years to come.

On May 23rd, a Saturday, I'll be participating in a Central States Seminar on paper money. It will be in Milwaukee at the Clarion Hotel Airport at 5311 S. Howell Ave. Cost will be $20 for Central States members and $30 for non members with $15 going toward a one year membership in Central States. I'll be talking about small Size $1 and $2 bills. Peter Huntoon will discuss National Banks, Neil Shafer will talk on World Commemorative paper money and Wendell Wolka will discuss Antebellum Badger banking. It should be a lot of fun and I'm looking forward to participating.

OUR COVER: This month's cover is a real honest namesake note for our hobby and this magazine. It is a First Charter $2 bill from the collection of PMCM member Danny Rothfeld, and it is the only note know on the bank so it is rare and collectible despite its low grade. It is a note only a collector could love and Danny is proud to love it and include it in his collection. These Lazy Twos are very hard to come by as experts estimate that only about 2500 of these notes still exist. For the most part they circulated and are very pricey in high grade. If you like Nationals you should include one of these in your collection.

PRESIDENT'S COLUMN:

The Spring PMCM Meeting will be held April 11, 2015, a Saturday, at the Macomb County Community College in Warren, Michigan at the MSNS Spring Show. There will be a short business meeting followed by either a Speaker or a DVD on a paper money related topic.

Regarding the Fall MSNS Show, as explained in the Editor's column, I missed the show for the first time in many years. I did however, get feedback from PMCM members. Keith Bauman and his wife Sue are regular participants as dealers at the show and I always enjoy visiting with both. They reported that it was a good show, not great, but good and they had a good first day, a slow Saturday and a really good Sunday, although attendance decreased daily. Joe Peruski, a Monroe, Michigan dealer reported that opening day attendance was 1200. He too described this show as good. The Macomb County venue allows lots of space for expansion and there is plenty of room for exhibits, as that was a bit tight at the Dearborn venue. Michigan National Bank note collector and PMCM officer praised the paper money exhibits and reported that Danny Rothfeld won third prize in the paper money class for his exhibit "Selected U.S. Error notes." Second prize went to Dave Gelwicks for "A variety of Houghton, Michigan Nationals” which was the focus of a great article in our last issue. Secretary/treasurer Dan Freeland himself took First place for “Selected Michigan Nationals.” The People’s choice award went to past PMCM President Karl Mark Pall for his exhibit of Michigan metal savings banks. If you haven’t exhibited in the past, give it a try and share your collection with the rest of us at the Spring or Fall MSNS Show.

Also, and big on my agenda is my need for articles. I have written a few to fill in, but am running out of ideas. I need your help in offering informative articles on paper money. Send me an article by snail mail or email. I know from your want ads that there are some great collections out there. We have never run an article on Errors to my knowledge, or fancy serial numbers. I think these would be great for our member’s information. You can even handwrite your article if you don’t like computers. I’m also looking for cover art, such as the lazy $2 we have on this issue’s cover. Show off your collection or tell us about it.

That’s pretty much it for this issue. If you have any questions or suggestions, Email me at billbrandimore@charter.net I’d enjoy visiting with you at shows, as well, so happy collecting!

Bill Brandimore, president, PMCM.

FEATURE ARTICLE

Auction Interaction, by William Brandimore

I have bought and sold notes now for the better part of 30 years. I have dealt with dealers, other collectors and auction houses. Selling or trading a note to another collector is probably the preferred method, but there are drawbacks. At auction your notes are offered to a wider audience and with today's Live Computer options, auction houses just might be your best bet; if, that is, you want to sell a number of items or an entire collection. Auction houses will advertise your material and lots of collectors will have access to it over the internet. Typical arrangements call for auctioneers to add 18% to the hammer price of lots sold and take a 05% fee from the seller. Thus with no real negotiating on your part you will receive the hammer price, less 05% in 30 day to 60 days. The auctioneer, after all needs to collect from buyers and sometimes that process takes a while. If you are buying you may review lots on the computer, or better still, look at them at the auction location. Today, most auction lots are third party graded so there won't be many disputes. If you review lots at the site there will really be no return options for you. If you purchase over the computer you might appeal a note that has not been third party graded, but if the note is in a holder and you don't like it, you are probably not going to get any satisfaction from the auctioneer. You may appeal to the grading company, but the auctioneer probably won't be part of that appeal. Certainly if a note is misidentified the Grader is responsible to make it up to you. Be sure you are looking at Major grading companies, however, as companies that are out of business or not very reputable will be very difficult to deal with.

If you are a seller, expect the auction house to have your notes graded. This will be done at your expense unless otherwise stipulated. Currently, Heritage is having all notes they sell at major auctions graded. That will probably cost you about $35 per note. This is not ill spent money, however, as high graded notes will sell well; notes with problems, not so well. Lyn Knight is still offering some notes in raw condition. He also is still charging 15% for a buyer's fee, 18% if the buyer pays with a credit card. You will pay 05% of hammer price as the seller. I have dealt with Knight and Heritage in buying and selling and I have been very satisfied with both companies.

You do need to strike your best deal, however, and if your material is really nice you may if negotiate to pay a reduced seller's fee, or no seller's fee at all. If you have low quality material or very common material, however, an auction house might not want to accept your consignment. Nice notes sell and everyone makes out. Both auction houses have told me in the past that I would be really pleased with some results and not so pleased with others. So it is that if two people get in a fight over one of your notes. It could sell for well beyond estimates. Or, no one will be interested in a particular note and it sells very cheaply. You are protected in that both firms describe a minimum bid that must be made. It will probably be less than you'd like, but the bidding has to start somewhere and if the minimum bid is set too high, the note might not sell at all. In general it all works out. Is your material of lower grade, get you club to hold auctions. My Wisconsin Valley club holds several auctions a year and neither buyers or sellers pay fees. It is a club service.

Are you planning ahead? You might want to get your notes third party graded yourself, especially if you can take advantage of lot groupings. PCGS, for instance offers a plan that gives you a free book, access to their web site and free grading for 15 notes and they throw in a membership in The Society of Paper Money Collectors membership...a $35 value. PMG offers a similar membership deal with 5 free grades. Check it out. What is really neat is you can spend the money you get on more notes!

Ed. Note: If you would like to be listed as a note trader, write me with your address and interests...$1, $2, $5, etc and the Districts you are collecting. For the curlist have kept the names of people I knew to be active. If you want off this list, email me or drop me a line. ## Here is a great club you might want to consider if you have any interest in United States Fractional Currency of the Civil War period.

With the $30 application fee you will receive two books along with one year's membership. The first is The Encyclopedia of Fractional Currency by Milton Friedberg. It is the definitive explanation of all Fractional Currency notes and the various Specimen, Proof and Experimental issues. Well illustrated, it will tell you perhaps more than you want to know.

The second book is called the Simplified Encyclopedia. As the name implies it is a more compact book dealing with less arcane issues. This is a good place to start if you are a beginner, with the regular Encyclopedia as a great reference to delve into for more information.

The FCCB meets every June at the Memphis Paper money show. Members also get together informally at the FUN Show in Florida.

The FCCB is composed of dedicated members who enjoy sharing their knowledge. Join us and join the fun of Fractional Currency!
